

COMPARATIVE IMMIGRATION.

The full report of the bureau of statistics on the immigration of the year ending June 30, 1901, has appeared. Examination of the report furnishes an interesting comparison of the nationality of those who entered the United States from foreign countries during the year.

We find that the four countries which furnished the largest number of immigrants were Germany, Great Britain, Italy and Norway. The German contingent exceeded the British by 56,767 souls. It is a little remarkable that the next highest contribution we got to our population is from our neighbor Canada and other British provinces, which have lately been so enthusiastic in their professions of loyalty to the queen. Should this continue the proportion of the British in the population of the United States will be increased.

During the said year our northern neighbors gave us the addition of 125,391 souls. Next in order come Sweden, 40,750, and Norway, 32,755, aggregating 73,505 from Scandinavia, constituting the largest single source of immigration to our country. Next in order come Italy, 25,119, and Russia, 22,755, aggregating 47,874 from the Old World. The total of all foreign immigration was 1,000,000 souls. The total of all foreign immigration was 1,000,000 souls. The total of all foreign immigration was 1,000,000 souls.

POSTAL MATTERS.

Postmaster General James, in preparing the estimates for the postal service of next year, has prepared a candid and open account of the situation of the postal service. He has estimated that the postal service for next year will cost $100,000,000. This is a large sum, but it is necessary for the postal service to be able to handle the increasing volume of mail.

VERY PROPER INDIGNATION.

Ingersoll's last article in the North American Review has brought out a caustic letter from Judge Black on the manner in which that dignified periodical is conducted. The judge charges that the managers of the magazine are a pack of adventurers without any principles or convictions, and without capacity to contribute an original thing of their own except rags and lampshades.
